

FIELD TRIP

Clear Night at the Observatory

Did you know Baton Rouge has its own Observatory?!

It's called the Highland Road Park Observatory .

An observatory is a special building that holds fancy telescopes and equipment used by astronomers to study the stars on clear nights.

Check out the free public programs available by visiting their website at <https://www.bro.lsu.edu/> under PROGRAMS.

On a clear night, pick a program and try it out!
