

PAPERCRAFT

The Sky Is Falling, Chicken Little!

In the story of Chicken Little, a piece of hail falls from the sky and is mistaken for an actual piece of the sky leading the animal characters to panic and make very silly choices (in some versions, it's an acorn, but the animals always are very silly).

Hail is actually small balls of ice that fall like rain during special kinds of storms. While you should go inside when it hails, you don't need to panic like the silly characters did.

Think about what you would do if a chunk of sky fell on you...would you panic? Would you take a picture? Would you tell someone?

Then make this fun Chicken Little paper craft and act out your solution!

SUPPLIES:

-construction paper or cardstock      -scissors      -glue      -crayons

Directions:

- Cut out template
- Trace pieces on colors as instructed and cut out (or color and use template)
- Glue pieces together to form a chicken as shown!
- Use different colors to make other birds...then act out the story!

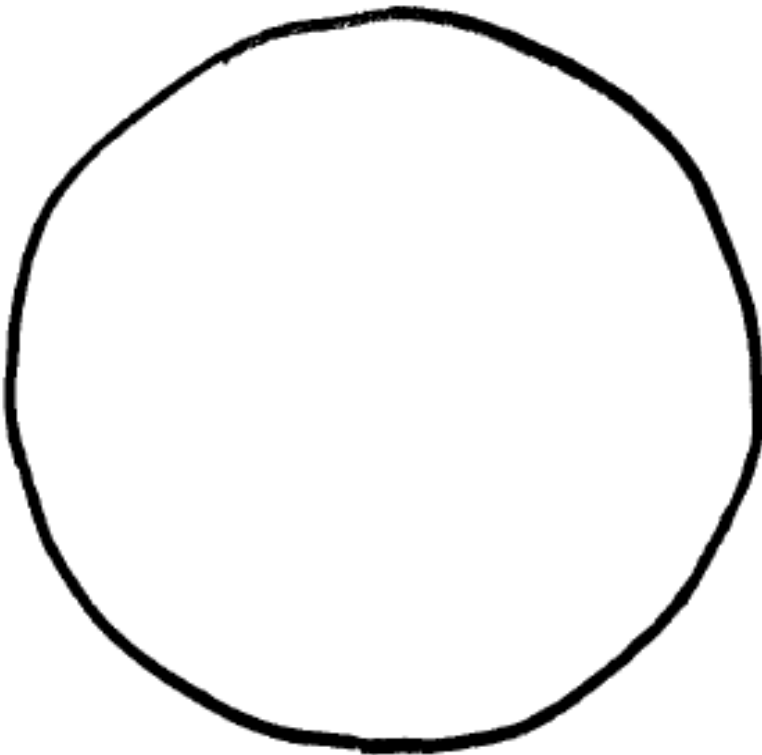

CUT 1 IN RED FOR WATTLE

CUT 2 IN BLACK FOR EYES

CUT 1 IN WHITE FOR BODY

CUT 2 IN WHITE FOR WINGS

CUT 1 IN ORANGE FOR BEAK

CUT 2 IN ORANGE FOR FEET

